“ Uncle Tony, we are so broken, first my Mom and now you! We will never be the same. I try not to look at your picture but my eyes go to it. I keep picturing you sitting on your chair in the kitchen. How you loved the Japanese channel and I even got interested in it watching it with you. I'm lost Uncle Tony!

“ well the last blue candle listed below was for the color of your blue eyes...and that is to let all those who attended that you were smiling down on them....you had a wonderful fairwell memorial and one i know you would have been proud and thankful for.

only one regret.....OH OH.....here it comes.....

THAT YOU COULDNT PLAY FOR YOUR OWN FUNERAL... but they were ur favorite songs and i know you enjoyed them as much as we

“ my heart is so heavy i wish it would break.....after 56 years together with never having been seperated the pain is allmost unbearable. The pact we made before your death works because of the many signs you have given to me about your survival after death. They are very comforting to me and our loved ones. You left behind a beautiful generation of family and friends and you loved each and everyone of them unconditionally...of course you were really smitten with the lastest bunch of morrison and waltons kids.....as they always brought a smile to your face when they said...play the organ or piano for us....you will be greatly missed by all and i am really having a tough time trying to think of life without you your loving partner and,companion for all these years i know that st odilia,st anthony, st padre pio and all your other patrons are finally so glad to meet you..also our dear blessed virgin Mary

“ Oh Uncle Tony, what am I going to do without you? Our Family Patriarch! Since the day I was born there you were, My Godfather! Another Father for me! We talked every single day, I would call and ask you how to cook something or what I was doing wrong. Every morning you would call and say, "what cha doin?" You always worried about me, even the other night at the hospital saying to me, "go home before it gets dark so I don't worry". I will always see your smile, especially when I walked into the condo and you'd be sitting on your chair at the kitchen table, or waving to me from the balcony. Bringing you so many of your favorite foods, like Proscuitto, sliced thin. I miss you so much Uncle Tony! The only solace I have is that all your pains are gone., you have your vision, no more cancer, no more heart problem, no more hammertoe, and you can walk without struggling, but most of all, with everyone we have in Heaven, you are with my Mom, I know how much you missed Mom. I can see Mom's smile with her arms open for you. You will always be in my heart Uncle Tony, I love you so much!
