Cheli, I am still in shock with this... I knew you wen we were about 11 and up and I was with you during your first pregnancy and always was there with you even after you had her until you moved out and then if see you every now and then but all the stuff we shared and told one another will always stay with Meeeee. You are in a better place and your daughter couldn't have said it better, you already knew your days were counted. I hope you lived then to to your best and said everything you had to say. Miss you
