“ Where do I begin to tell say how sad and heartbroken I am about Buddy. (That is how I remember he and Bobby, sorry). I have known Sue and the boys since they became members at Resurrection Lutheran Church; the quiet and absolutely most talented and gifted children I knew. Respectful. I am just heartbroken for all those that he touched in whatever way he did. While a physical presence is no longer, there will always be a spiritual presence and memories. That is what will get everyone through these sad and difficult days. One day at a time. Faith. Friends. Family. I just don't have words to bring comfort. I pray for peace, comfort, and strength at this time. Dean flies with the angels earning wings too early. I hope my dad was standing there to greet Dean home....

“ I knew and loved you from the beginning of your life. I watched you grow and learn and flower into a bright, talented and caring man. You had a great life. You blessed everyone that met you. We will cherish our memories with you forever. Fly with the Angels and watch over the rest of us.
