My Zia Lisa, who I will miss so much. Thank you for all the great memories we shared, for being my rock when I lost my dad. You and I had many conversations and I will treasure it always. The advice, the guidance you gave me will be instilled in me always. You are a strong Celia woman with family values, raised your kids with love and enjoyed life. You make me proud to be a Celia! I couldn't of asked for a better aunt! I was blessed to have you in my life for 41 years and for my kids to have you as well. May you R.I.P always. You will be forever in my heart. Give my dad a big kiss and hug from me. 🙏❤️ Love you always, Marianna, Giovanni & Giuliana

Share a memory w/my mom??? There are too many but a description of my mom easier to tackle. My mom was the most incredible mom. She was beautiful, smart, caring, loving, strong, a huge heart, the best cook ever (very well known for her gravy/sauce), immaculate (you can literally eat off of her floors), stubborn (hence being Calabrese) funny (somewhat nasty especially w/her girlfriends), supportive, a photographer (so many photo albums) decision maker, Queen of her castle(s), etc, but most importantly a great life-long companion to her wonderful husband. They were opposites in so many ways but were so much alike when it came to family. Her husband and kids came first and it showed by everything she did for us. She and my dad did everything they could to bring my mom's siblings from Italy to Chicago and help them build a life here (specifically Bowler Street). She not only embraced family members but working moms who needed a trusting woman to take care of their babies. My mom was that woman and was always remembered for being such a loving woman. She wasn't just a babysitter she became their second mom. When her grandkids came along, I think we were all thrown to the waste side, lol – never. She was their Nonna and they loved her so much. She fed them pasta with her famous sauce and then spoiled them w/not only her love but plenty of candy, lol. She was very much a part of their lives in so many ways.

I do have a memory that has made a lasting impression. I remember walking home from St. Callistus, which was only houses away from our apartment building, one cold afternoon and my mom opening the door to a winter wonderland. She would put up the Christmas decorations while I was in school. I was so overwhelmed and excited by the beautiful tree and lights that every time I decorate my home that little girl remembers those beautiful memories and the excitement is relived.

Mommy, you will always be in my heart and mind. Give papi a big hug and kiss from me. Tua figlia, Anna Maria
