Frances Kelly, aka Fran, Grandma, Grandma CooCoo, and Tootie, died peacefully in her sleep in the arms of one of her children and accompanied by another on September 14 at 4:10 am, following an evening befit for a queen with her entire family at her bedside. She, along with her husband, Ed Kelly, of 40 years, raised a family of six children in an environment that stressed three critical values that they held dear as parents: a strong faith in God and being kind to everyone you meet; a focus on discipline accompanied by unending amounts of love and support; and, an emphasis on building a bond of love among their children that will never fail. Fran met each of life's challenges with incredible strength and fortitude, founded strongly on faith, and never lost her ability to laugh in the face of such challenges. She was a role model to her many grandchildren and great-grandchildren, never hesitating to babysit them when the opportunity or need arose, and always giving them her full attention, love, and laughter. She made everyone, whether a family member or a stranger on the street, feel important. She remembered the smallest of details about people she met, always turning the conversation from how she was doing to how they were doing with their particular problems or challenges. She was known to say more Novenas, to pray more prayers, and seek God's intervention on behalf of others in need than probably any person that has ever graced this fine earth. Her favorite saints were St. Theresa ("The Little Flower") and St. Gerard (Patron Saint of Mothers), the latter of which she called upon frequently whenever she heard of a couple wanting to get pregnant. It was commonly believed she had the ear of God and would seek out his assistance not for her needs but for the needs of others. Her Mission in life, aside from being the best mother, grand/ great-grand mother, and mother-in-law to her family, was in praying for the children of the world. She touched thousands of children's lives in her 45 years as a Crossing Guard, and performed her duties in that role beyond comparison. She had energy like none other, often kissing her grand children good night only to then head off to the local VFW Hall to dance with her husband or be with her many friends. She was a champion at Rummikub, and dare you slow the game by too much talking for fear of receiving her mischievously fun scolding. Beginning in her 50s, she became a valiant member of the Blue Army, where she prayed more Rosaries than the Pope himself; at 70, she bought her dream car, a little red Beetle and became the driver of choice for her many friends; at 80, she learned how to use an iPad to stay in touch with her family and friends; and, at 90, she excelled at wheelchair bowling, playing Pokeno, and enjoying horse racing with her friends at the Norwood Crossing retirement home. Her fear in life was to ever be a burden on anyone, most of all her family, and would meet anyone doing a nice deed for her in her frail state with a big smile and heartfelt "thank you." Walt Whitman once said: "Success is to laugh often and much, to win the respect of intelligent peers, and to leave the world a little bit better off because you were here." She was, quite frankly, a success by that and any greater measure. She will be sadly missed by her family and friends, but her smile, warmth, and simple "God Bless", will eternally guide us all on the right path in her physical absence.

“ Mrs. Kelly was our Dirksen School closing guard. As the Dirksen Principal, I spoke frequently with her. She joined our school celebrations as an honored guest. I will never forget her friendliness and that beautiful smile. When I heard of her meeting with The Lord, I was sadden, but I know she looks to see that the Dirksen children cross the street in safety. God Bless this marvelous woman!
This is a great lost for all of us!

“ Kelly,
may the almighty God bless you and your family during this difficult time. Any mother lost is difficult on a family, but there is comfort knowing that her love will never be lost on her 6 beautiful children. I will continue to pray for the repose of her soul.

My sincere condolences,

Brian Donahue

“ May the simple gesture of a hug, a kiss, a smile or a tap on your shoulder from a family member, friend or a complete stranger comfort you during this difficult time. Keep your mom's memories deep in your heart where no one can take them away from you. Remember tears are ways of healing and if did not cry for her do not be upset with yourself because someone else is crying for you. May the Blessed Mother watch over you.

“ What a lovely woman, what a glorious soul, what a kind and generous person! Fran Kelly made friends everywhere she went. Her warmth and sincerity, her genuine caring, her honest faith, made her so lovable! She looked out for others; she adored her family; she had so many friends! She was one of those people you never forget. So special! Her sweetness lingers on. I will always cherish her memory and feel blessed to have known her and called her my friend.

Note: I met Fran Kelly when I lived in an apartment just steps from the corner where she worked as a crossing guard. That was the beginning of a beautiful, heartfelt friendship that lasted for many years.

Fran was a lovely person. She was always willing to share words of faith, concern and support. I will always remember how kind she was to me. "May the angels lead you into paradise. May the martyrs come to welcome you and lead you to the holy city, the new and eternal Jerusalem."
