“ I went to Santa Maria Addolorata and Holy Trinity H.S. with Frank. We walked every day together and Frank was never late. He was one of the best guys from Grand Ave. I don't know of a nicer guy. God bless (but He already did).

“ Frank was a great guy to work with, patient and generous with knowledge. He was also a very funny guy, somewhat colorful in his language and not always politically correct, but back in the day, that wasn't a big deal. One short story I'll share is that one time when he was on vacation someone needed access to his computer, but no one knew his password. I had suggested a particular colorful phrase Frank was fond of, and access was granted! I will miss Frank and his humor and smile. He was the best.
