“ Joe and I knew each other since 1987 from a theater group in Oak Park. We became friends immediately. He had a real talent when it came to acting. My long overdue condolences to Joe's family.

“ Sorry for your loss. I was Joe's squad. Leader at Ft. Lenardwood for basic training. At the end of basic training, he confided in me that he was afraid of going to Nam. I hoped I convinced him that we were all afraid.

“ After 30 years, Joe and I reconnected. We were best friends in Nam 68-69 and I loved him like a brother. He called me in April to say good by. Sorry I was not able to attend services. Know this, he will always be on my mind and in my heart. RIP Joe V.

“ Was it your smile,your friendship,your love of our Family or was it just Joe being Joe and all those attributes combined?We were more than just cousins, friends and close confidants too,who thought it humorous to call each other on Valentines and Mothers Day along with the other Holidays to share a greeting,a laugh, our love. That's what made Joe,Joe.His loyalty and generosity shared with all to all a fault that we should all have as a fault.My Cousin as you were called home to be with God and those now that you leave behind please watch over us.Let your memory always be one of cherished times we gathered together,broke bread and shared our love for each other.I will end this the way I always did after I talked with Joe telling him I love him.I'll always miss the kiss & hug that went with it.

“ I was with Carol Brown the day she met Joe Vach – a great looking guy with a guitar and an infectious smile. That was 44 years ago (almost to the day of his passing). The rest is history. Since that day, Joe's always been a part of my life, and I will miss him dearly. Sending love and prayers of peace to Carol, Gabriel and their entire family. We'll see you later, Joe.

Im going to miss you so much Joe!! You were a big part of my life after I married Frank Cahoj. We became such close friends. Ill miss our late night conversations, which is when you were at your best. That and in 80 plus degree weather ;) i hope your pain and suffering is gone and that you are resting in peace hanging out with your good buddy Frank. Ill be seeing you. Love, your Miss Debbie

Joe is a beautiful soul, who shared it with others. May God cradle him in His arms, and watch over us.

“ Joe I loved how you became family to me. We had so much fun at our Macrobiotic dinners. Carol and I became great friends. You helped me grow into the person I am today and I am sure I had some influence in yours. There is so much I wish I could have said to you but the greatest compliment I can give you is you and Carole and Gabe always made me feel like family. Love you xx Jane Weiland Langone

“ Joe Vacchiano The Vach. The man was there when you needed him. No questions asked, no excuses given. He was there at a moments notice. With a heart as big as the sky over Montana he lived a larger than life life. His friends, myself included, all shared in and were made to feel as though they were an integral part of that life. He leaves a hole that can't be filled. So long Joe, I'll catch you later.

“ Joe "Dad" what can I say about Joe Vacch? What can't I say? Your heart was deeper then the oceans, your enthusiasm & love of music brought joy to all who knew you💙 You welcomed me & my 2 pre-teens into your life, we became your family no questions asked. You loved & mentored my children in ways I never could. The bond that you & Johnny formed was so beautiful to watch!! Even tho you were not blood related, I truly believe you were a missing part of his soul! He looked up to you for advice & answers, and you never failed him! You taught him to never stop searching for answers, look beyond social media, never stop questioning the universe! I miss your laugh, your friendship. I will keep your memories alive! I'll laugh, I'll cry & I'll miss you like crazy! I love you Dad💚 Til we meet again🥹
