“ To the Vatinno family, my families deepest condolences to and prayers to all of you. In hearing the news, I can't help think of the countless holiday parties we spent together as families together playing games and cards all night with Len. I don't want even get started thinking about the concerts and other events that Len took me to when I was a kid, even sneaking me into an Andrew Dice Clay concert. He is loved and his memories will live forever in me.

“ To the Vatinno family, my deepest and sincerest condolences to you all. Lenny was a good man. While I only knew him for roughly a year, it felt like I knew him forever. He was a kind soul, who lent his hand to me when I would need it. He helped me get my car this past January. He was one of my biggest supporters of my work. He would look at my work and always give me an A+. What I'll miss the most is his witty humor and quoting the sopranos during our conversations, which would make me laugh every time. Vatinno family, you're all in my prayers.
