“ Joanne
I just read in PC News about Mick's passing. I am heartbroken. We all had good times together which I will cherish forever. I will always remember and laugh about our conversations and how we would apply words, statements and situations from the honeymooners. Rest In Peace my good friend.

“ I had the privilege and pleasure to work with Mick for almost 28yrs at Chicago Tribune. He was passionate about his job and making sure the right things were being done. He showed compassion for people, no matter who you were or what the situation was and he will be deeply missed. My deepest sympathy to the family.

“ Mick was the first person I'd see each day at work. We'd share a brief conversation about work or general things. I'm already missing those short, friendly talks.
