“ I loved your mom, very much. She is no longer in pain. A new beautiful angel watching over you all. I enjoyed talking with her at bingo. She will be missed. Love Kathy

“ Mom it’s hard to believe you are gone. You were a force of nature. The energy of the room shifted when you entered it. You went out of your way to make people feel loved and special. You loved your family fiercely. And I know you did your best. You knew when something was wrong just by hearing my voice. You were my biggest supporter and cheerleader. You were there for me the last few months during the darkest period of my life. Little did I know it would get darker still by losing you too. We had so looked forward to being together again. And for me to cook for you. I will miss our daily emails. And your cards and letters filled with clippings. I will carry on. Your love gives me strength. I felt it then and I feel it now. It was my privilege to spend your last hours on earth with you, to hold your hand and kiss your face. I know you are with Jesus in complete peace and happiness being the life of the party in heaven. And I know we will be together again. But I miss you. I love you forever.

Your honey,
Tiffany

“ To my daisy loving, Vanilla Fields wearing, once a week hot fudge sundae from McDonalds as a sweet treat — the word that comes to mind when I think of you is blessed. I was blessed to be raised by you, blessed to have made so many memories with you that will last a lifetime, and most importantly I was blessed to be loved by you. There are so many things I am going to miss from our weekly emails, getting a card in the mail just because, you asking how my kids were treating me at school, and your smile. You lit up every room you walked into and made sure everyone felt welcome and loved. Thank you for showing us unconditional love and for being the best grandma. I miss you so much but I know you are right here with me. I hope you are up there dancing with Jesus. I love you forever.
