“ I just found out from Marilyn about Pattys passing. We go back to 1968 The Central National Bank of Chicago. Instant friends and we had sooo much fun. Her yellow ford convertible was soo cool, dancing was our life and went everywhere to dance. People thought Patty had a disability due to Polio, lol boy were they wrong. Patty did everything we did and better, she never knew she had a disability. She just did whatever everyone else did. Our favorite The Wine and Roses in Schiller Park. The 1,2,3, where we met our husbands. She loved Lerner Shops and we went shopping for outfits every week. One of my favorites about Patty Bartucci is when she would dye her shoes to match the color of the outfit and it worked and looked great. The Silver Dress (Lamas material spelling?) that she wore for our Christmas party was a show stopper, her figure was perfect in this dress and she looked like a model. I remember she bought it on State Street. Anyway. I loved her family and Helen use to crack me up. I could go on and on and the tears have not stopped since I found out she went to Heaven. She was a wonderful person, woman, daughter, Wife, Mother, Grandmother, Friend, Dancer, Fashionista, I LOVE YOU ALWAYS AND FOREVER PATTY BARTUCCI
