I am so sorry for your loss. One of my fondest memories of Ma is of her making Gravy on Sunday morning while she listened to big band music on the radio. If I close my eyes I am back there right now. You are three of the most devoted children I know and your mother loved you all dearly. I know there are no words that can bring you much comfort right now, but try picturing Marty and Stell together again in heaven. I would love to know how that reunion went. I'm sorry I can't be with you for the wake or funeral because I am in Florida for the winter. I hope we can get together in the Spring. I love you all deeply and will have you in my prayers.
