“ I am sending you a giant hug Gracie, Laura and Giovanni. And holding your hearts up to the Lord for comfort. Reading these posts I recognized that his gift was bringing light and joy to everyone he touched. In his generosity, thoughtfulness, kindness (no matter what he was going through), and humor, he showed us that there is goodness and hope in each of us, and reflected it back so we could see it in ourselves. What a gift! He was magnetic...I remember as a kid the energy he had when he walked into a room. That left an impression on me. His positive energy never faded even with all that he endured. I will always remember his strength—he felt his feelings and was never afraid to show them—sadness, anger, joy, compassion— I loved his vulnerability. He seemed to always be thinking about how he could help others, what he could do to solve a problem, make them laugh, or just be there for them. And that laugh! A bit like yours Gracie but all his own, it was contagious and always left me smiling. His silly expressions seemed to relax people and loosen them up. And that's when he'd get into your heart. He loved you all so fiercely. You'll always be in our hearts Vito! Sending you love and light Gracie!

“ Please accept my deepest sympathy in your loss of Vito.
I had the opportunity to be with Vito during many of his hospital stays at Northwestern Medicine, Central DuPage Hospital. Vito loved his family and was always gracious and kind in the midst of his suffering.
I hold each of you in prayer as you mourn Vito's death. May his soul and the souls of all the faithfully departed Rest in Peace.
Peace and prayers to his family.

“ I'm so sorry for you family's loss. I have only known Giovanni for a few weeks as a student in my English class, but he is a wonderful young man. I would imagine this is due in large part to the wonderful things I'm reading about his father. Your family is in my thoughts and prayers.
